

ACR 126: Commercial Heating Systems

This course covers the theory and application of larger heating systems. Emphasis is placed on larger heating systems associated with commercial applications such as gas heaters, boilers, unit heaters, and duct heaters. Upon completion, student should be able to troubleshoot and perform general maintenance on commercial heating systems.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 4

Lecture Hours: 1

Prerequisites:

None

Co-Requisites:

None