

PCT 222: Unit Maintenance

This course is designed to provide instruction in maintenance procedures as applied to pulp/paper and chemical industries. The student will study and perform maintenance on piping systems, bearings, boilers, valves, pumps and heat exchangers. The student will also learn proper chemical handling procedures, lubricating techniques, and surface preparation practices and techniques.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 2

Lecture Hours: 2

0

Prerequisites:

PCT 221