

Federal Supplemental – Educational Opportunity Grants

By filing the FAFSA form, students are considered for the the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program (FSEOG). This grant is for students with exceptional financial need. The students with the lowest EFC have the highest need. If a student receives FSEOG, it cannot be less than $200. Not all students who qualify can be awarded, as there is a limited amount of grant money available. Students who apply early (file a complete FAFSA) are given first consideration.
