

Vaccination Policy

Coastal Alabama Community College does not have a policy regarding vaccinations; however, the College is concerned about the health and well-being of all students. Accordingly, Coastal Alabama Community College encourages all students to remain current on vaccinations as suggested by appropriate health authorities.

However, enrollment in some healthcare-related degree programs and participation in some activities (i.e. Study Abroad programs, etc.) require immunizations as recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and communicated by the specific Coastal Alabama Community College program.
